3. The International Conference "European Union's History, Culture and Citizenship" (EUHCC)

About EUHCC

The International Conference “European Union's History, Culture and Citizenship” (EUHCC) is an annual scientific academic event organized within the Faculty of Economic Sciences and Law, dedicated to legal studies and interdisciplinary research on European Union legal aspects. The conference provides a scientific platform for scholars, researchers, practitioners, and doctoral candidates to engage in debates on the evolution of the European Union, its legal system, institutional framework, cultural dimensions, and the concept of European citizenship.

The Purpose of EUHCC

The conference aims to strengthen international academic cooperation, encourage interdisciplinary approaches, and support young researchers in disseminating their scientific research results in a competitive academic environment. EUHCC brings together national and international experts in European Union law, constitutional law, administrative law, human rights, and related socio-legal fields, fostering academic dialogue and cross-border research cooperation.
